

Terms and Conditions of Use

Legal Notice and Restricted Access for Qualified Investors

Last updated: 6 February 2026

Important information. Specific information concerning investment products is reserved exclusively for previously verified Qualified Investors. Neither this document nor the Site constitutes investment advice, an offer, a recommendation or a solicitation to invest. SciTech Investments does not make any public offering of securities, investment products or financial instruments through the Site.

1. Identification of SciTech Investments

SciTech Investments is a brand of Emerge Management Inc., a company registered in the British Virgin Islands (BVI) under registration number 1828096.

References in these Terms to "SciTech Investments", "we", "us", "our" or equivalent expressions shall be understood as references to Emerge Management Inc., unless another entity is expressly identified as responsible for a particular activity, communication or service.

The incorporation or corporate registration of Emerge Management Inc. in the BVI shall not, in itself, be construed as an authorisation, licence, approval, recommendation or guarantee by any regulatory authority in relation to any investment product, service, strategy or activity.

2. Purpose, scope and acceptance

These Terms and Conditions of Use and Legal Notice (the "Terms") govern access to and use of the SciTech Investments website, its pages, content, documents, restricted areas and related functionalities (the "Site").

By accessing, browsing or using the Site, the user declares that they have read, understood and accepted these Terms. In the case of a restricted area, a request for access, electronic acceptance or entry using credentials shall also constitute express acceptance of these Terms and of any specific conditions applicable to that area.

The user declares that they have sufficient legal capacity to accept these Terms. Any person who does not accept them must refrain from using the Site and must not request access to restricted content.

3. Nature of the public Site

The public portion of the Site contains exclusively general, institutional, educational and technological information relating to SciTech Investments, its team, its methodological approach and the general use of quantitative and technological tools.

The public portion of the Site does not provide sufficient specific information to evaluate, acquire, subscribe for, redeem, transfer or dispose of an investment product. In particular, the public area does not publish product economic terms, offering documents or subscription terms, fees, liquidity restrictions, redemption mechanisms, detailed portfolio information or other elements intended to support an investment decision.

Any specific information relating to investment products, vehicles, instruments or strategies may only be made available within a restricted area and after the interested party's status as a Qualified Investor has been satisfactorily verified.

General descriptions of technologies, models, processes or methodologies must not be interpreted as sufficient information about a product, as an invitation to invest or as a representation of future results.

4. Access exclusively for Qualified Investors

Information relating to investment products is directed and made available exclusively to Qualified Investors.

For the purposes of these Terms, a "Qualified Investor" shall mean only a natural person or legal entity that, as applicable, satisfies all of the following requirements:

1. Qualifies as a qualified, professional, institutional, accredited, sophisticated or wholesale investor, wholesale client, professional investor, accredited investor, qualified purchaser, eligible counterparty or any other equivalent non-retail category under applicable law.
2. Is not considered a retail investor, retail client or equivalent category in relation to the relevant information, product or service.
3. Is legally entitled to receive and assess the relevant information in the jurisdictions of their residence, incorporation, domicile and access.
4. Satisfies any additional requirements established by applicable law, the constitutive or offering documents of the product and internal admission policies.
5. Has been expressly verified and accepted as such by SciTech Investments, the entity responsible for the product or a third party authorised to carry out that verification.

In Argentina, "Qualified Investor" shall have the meaning established from time to time under the Rules of the Comision Nacional de Valores.

In Australia, "Qualified Investor" shall include only persons who may validly be treated as wholesale clients or another non-retail category under applicable Australian law, including, where relevant, professional or sophisticated investors who satisfy the corresponding legal requirements.

In the BVI, where applicable to the relevant vehicle, structure or investment activity, "Qualified Investor" shall include persons who meet the definition of professional investor or another equivalent category under the applicable law and documentation.

In other jurisdictions, status shall be determined according to the equivalent category then in force. Status must be assessed in relation to the specific information, product, service and time concerned; a classification obtained for one jurisdiction or relationship shall not automatically extend to another.

Retail investors may not access the restricted area, receive specific product information or use the Site to request an investment.

5. Verification of Qualified Investor status

A person's mere declaration that they are a Qualified Investor will not be sufficient to obtain access to restricted information.

SciTech Investments, the entity responsible for the product or their authorised service providers may request, among other items:

- Identity, address and tax-residency documentation.
- Corporate documentation, ownership and control structure, and identification of ultimate beneficial owners.
- Certificates issued by accountants, auditors, advisers or other authorised professionals.
- Evidence of net worth, income, investments, deposits or assets under control.
- Documentation evidencing experience, professional activity or institutional status.
- Licences, registrations, regulatory records or professional enrolments.
- Statutory declarations and information concerning source of funds and source of wealth.
- Any other information necessary to verify the legal category claimed and to comply with regulatory or internal obligations.

Verification may vary according to the jurisdiction, the person, the nature of the information or product and the law then in force. SciTech Investments may conduct the verification directly or through an authorised third party.

SciTech Investments may accept, reject, suspend, limit or revoke a request for access where it has not been able to verify Qualified Investor status satisfactorily; the documentation is incomplete, expired, inconsistent or insufficient; territorial, regulatory, operational or compliance restrictions apply; the person no longer satisfies the applicable requirements; there are indications of false information, identity theft, access on behalf of unauthorised third parties or circumvention of controls; or access could result in a breach of law or regulation.

Acceptance as a Qualified Investor may be limited to a particular jurisdiction, entity, product, transaction or period. Re-verification may be required at any time.

6. User representations and obligations

By requesting or using access to the restricted area, the user represents and warrants that:

1. They are a Qualified Investor and are not a retail investor in relation to the information to which access is requested.
2. They act on their own behalf or as the valid representative of an entity that qualifies as a Qualified Investor.
3. They do not request and will not use the information on behalf or for the benefit of a retail investor or any other unverified person.
4. Access to and receipt of the information are lawful in every jurisdiction applicable to them.
5. All information and documentation supplied are complete, accurate, authentic and current.

6. They will immediately disclose any change that may affect their Qualified Investor status or the accuracy of the information provided.
7. They will not attempt to circumvent access controls, use third-party information, share credentials or gain access using false or misleading information.
8. They will maintain the confidentiality of restricted materials and will not transmit them to unauthorised persons.
9. They have the knowledge, experience and professional resources required to analyse the risks associated with the information and any potential investment opportunity.

7. Restricted product information

Specific information concerning investment products, vehicles, instruments or strategies will be provided only to previously verified Qualified Investors.

Access to the restricted area does not constitute an offer, does not represent acceptance as an investor, does not guarantee that the user is eligible for a particular product, does not oblige SciTech Investments or any other entity to provide additional information, does not imply that the suitability of the product for the user has been assessed and does not create any right to subscribe for, acquire, transfer or redeem an investment.

Any investment may be completed only through the relevant official documents and will be subject, among other requirements, to the investor's legal eligibility; product availability; offering and subscription documents; the vehicle's constitutive terms; know-your-customer procedures; anti-money-laundering and sanctions controls; express acceptance by the competent entity; and any internal, regulatory or contractual approval that may be required.

In the event of any inconsistency between the Site and a product's official documents, the official documents shall prevail. The economic terms, risks, fees, liquidity, subscription and redemption mechanisms and all other conditions of each product shall be exclusively those established in its official documentation.

8. Confidentiality and prohibition on redistribution

All material available within the restricted area shall be confidential and intended exclusively for the Qualified Investor to whom access has been granted.

The user may not copy, publish, forward, distribute, reproduce, display, upload to public platforms, deliver to retail investors or otherwise make such materials available to third parties without prior written authorisation. Nor may the user use them to conduct any unauthorised offering, promotion, recommendation or distribution of investment products.

Credentials are personal and non-transferable. The user is responsible for keeping them confidential and must immediately report any unauthorised use, loss, compromise or suspected improper access.

9. General information and absence of advice

The information provided on the Site is for general and informational purposes only.

No content constitutes financial, legal, tax, accounting, regulatory or investment advice. The information has not been prepared having regard to any user's objectives, financial situation, needs, time horizon, risk tolerance or particular circumstances.

Access to the Site or to restricted information does not create a fiduciary, advisory, representative, mandate, agency or individually managed portfolio relationship between the user and SciTech Investments.

Before making any decision, the user must conduct their own assessment and obtain independent advice from appropriately authorised professionals in the relevant jurisdictions.

10. No offer, recommendation or solicitation

Unless an official document delivered within the restricted area expressly states otherwise, no content on the Site constitutes a public or private offer, an invitation to make an offer, a solicitation to subscribe, a recommendation to buy, sell, hold, transfer or redeem, a promise of allocation, a guarantee of acceptance or an offer of financial services.

Where applicable, any potential offering may only be made by the entity legally authorised to do so, pursuant to the relevant official documentation and in a jurisdiction in which such offering is legally permitted. SciTech Investments shall not be regarded as the offeror, placement agent, issuer or distributor unless the relevant official documentation expressly identifies the corresponding legal entity as acting in such capacity.

The technical ability to access the Site, the availability of content in a particular language or the submission of an enquiry does not mean that SciTech Investments or any related entity is authorised to offer a product or provide a service in the user's jurisdiction.

11. General investment risks

All investments involve risk. The value of an investment and any income derived from it may rise or fall, and the investor may lose some or all of the capital invested.

There is no guarantee of return, capital preservation, recovery of losses, liquidity, availability of redemptions, continuity of markets or achievement of objectives.

Depending on the product and strategy, risks may include, among others:

- Market risk, volatility and abrupt price movements.
- Liquidity risk, suspension of redemptions, delays and absence of a secondary market.
- Counterparty, credit, custody and settlement risk.
- Currency, interest-rate, concentration and correlation risk.
- Leverage, derivatives, short-selling and margin-call risk.
- Valuation, data, model, execution and operational risk.
- Technology, cyber, regulatory, tax, political and extraordinary-event risk.

Diversification, internal limits, monitoring, hedging and other risk-management techniques may reduce certain risks, but they do not eliminate them.

An investment is suitable only for a person able to bear the economic consequences of a substantial or total loss and, where applicable, an extended lack of liquidity.

12. Risks of quantitative models, software and automation

Quantitative and algorithmic methodologies may depend on mathematical, statistical and computational models; historical and current data; parameters; assumptions; automated rules; software; execution systems; technological infrastructure; electronic communications; and services provided by third parties.

Every model is a simplification of reality. Its assumptions may be incomplete, incorrect or cease to be valid. Statistical relationships observed historically may change or disappear, particularly during periods of volatility, illiquidity, dislocation, crisis or changes in market regimes.

Models may contain design, programming, implementation or parameterisation errors; be overfitted to historical data; misinterpret market signals or conditions; react differently from expectations; fail to identify unprecedented or extreme events; generate unexpected exposures; maintain loss-making positions; cease to operate under certain conditions; or require suspension, modification or human intervention.

Data used may be incorrect, incomplete, inconsistent, out of date or delayed. Provider errors, connectivity interruptions, server failures, cybersecurity incidents, execution errors, latency, price slippage, market impact, insufficient liquidity or an inability to execute transactions at expected prices may also occur.

Automated controls, risk limits, oversight procedures and diversification mechanisms may also fail, operate with delay or prove insufficient.

SciTech Investments or the responsible entity may modify, replace, suspend, limit or discontinue models, parameters, systems, data sources, service providers or execution mechanisms whenever considered necessary.

No software, algorithm, mathematical model, automated system or risk-management process guarantees profits, predictability, preservation of capital, recovery of losses, operational continuity or the absence of permanent losses.

13. Historical, hypothetical and simulated results

Past results do not guarantee and are not a reliable indicator of future results.

Where information concerning results is provided within the restricted area, it may, as expressly identified, relate to actual, unaudited, simulated, hypothetical or pro forma results, a model account or historical testing.

Hypothetical, simulated or backtested results have inherent limitations. They do not necessarily represent transactions actually carried out and may have been prepared with the benefit of hindsight.

Such results may not adequately reflect available liquidity, transaction costs, commissions, fees, taxes, price slippage, market impact, delays, rejected orders, operational limits, data errors, human intervention, actual availability of instruments, decisions made under pressure or changes in market conditions.

Actual results may differ materially from historical, hypothetical, simulated or expected results. No projection, estimate, target, scenario or growth calculation constitutes a promise or guarantee of future performance.

Any presentation of results must be read together with the accompanying dates, currency, methodology, fees, expenses, source, audited or unaudited status and other explanatory information.

14. Accuracy, updating and availability of information

SciTech Investments seeks to ensure that information on the Site is reasonable and presented in good faith. Nevertheless, the information may contain errors, omissions, delays, differences of interpretation or data supplied by third parties.

Information may be changed without notice and must not be assumed to remain current after its publication date. The user must independently verify any information that may be relevant to a financial, legal, tax, regulatory or commercial decision.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, SciTech Investments does not warrant that the content is complete, accurate, current, uninterrupted or suitable for any particular purpose.

15. Anti-money laundering, identification and sanctions

Access to restricted information and any potential investment relationship will be subject to applicable know-your-customer, anti-money-laundering, counter-terrorist-financing, counter-proliferation-financing and sanctions-compliance controls.

SciTech Investments, the responsible entity or their service providers may request information concerning identity, address, tax residence, ownership and control structure, ultimate beneficial owners, economic activity, source of funds, source of wealth, politically exposed person status, third-party involvement, bank accounts and any other information necessary to comply with legal or internal obligations.

Access or a relationship may be rejected, suspended or terminated where the information is not satisfactory, compliance alerts arise or the transaction may involve a person, territory, activity or asset subject to restrictions.

Where required by law, information may be disclosed to competent authorities without prior notice to the person concerned.

16. Jurisdictional restrictions

The Site is not directed at persons located in jurisdictions in which access, receipt of information, promotion or any potential offering of a product is prohibited.

The user is responsible for understanding and complying with the laws of their jurisdiction. SciTech Investments may apply geographical restrictions, prevent requests, limit content or block access whenever it considers this necessary to satisfy legal, regulatory, operational or compliance requirements.

The availability of the Site in a particular language or the technical ability to access it from a country does not mean that SciTech Investments is authorised to offer products or provide services in that jurisdiction.

17. Australia

In Australia, Emerge Funds Investments Pty Ltd, ABN 21 674 300 960 and ACN 674 300 960, is an authorised representative (AR No. 1309347) of Capital and Treasury Solutions Pty Ltd, the holder of Australian Financial Services Licence AFSL No. 429066.

Emerge Funds Investments Pty Ltd will act only within the scope of the authorisation granted to it by the AFSL holder.

To the extent that any content made available in Australia constitutes financial product advice, that advice is general in nature. It does not take into account the recipient's objectives, financial situation or particular needs.

Before acting on that information, the recipient should consider whether it is appropriate to their circumstances, review the applicable official documents and obtain independent professional advice.

Investment product information made available in Australia is intended exclusively for Qualified Investors who may validly be treated as wholesale clients or another non-retail category under Australian law. It is not intended for retail clients.

Authorised representative status, the existence of an AFSL or the registration of an entity does not imply that ASIC or any other authority approves, recommends or guarantees any investment strategy, product, entity or result.

18. Intellectual property and permitted use

All rights in the Site, its text, trade marks, names, logos, graphics, methodologies, structures, presentations, databases, models, algorithms, designs, documents, software and other content belong to SciTech Investments, the relevant entity or their respective licensors.

Access to the Site grants only a limited, revocable, personal, non-exclusive and non-transferable right of use in accordance with these Terms. It does not grant the user any ownership right, licence to models or algorithms, or authorisation to exploit the content commercially.

Without prior written authorisation, it is prohibited to:

- Copy, reproduce, modify, publish, redistribute or commercially exploit materials from the Site.
- Extract data in bulk, use automated collection systems or carry out scraping.
- Reverse engineer or attempt to access code, parameters, models, systems or internal information.
- Create derivative products or use the content to develop, evaluate or train competing systems.
- Remove proprietary notices or use SciTech Investments trade marks and names in a manner that suggests non-existent authorisation, association or endorsement.

19. Security, availability and use of the Site

SciTech Investments does not guarantee that the Site will be continuously available, uninterrupted or free from errors, viruses, malicious code, unauthorised access or security incidents.

The Site may be suspended, restricted or modified for maintenance, technological incidents, operational decisions, regulatory requirements or causes beyond the reasonable control of SciTech Investments.

The user is responsible for keeping their devices, systems, credentials and security mechanisms adequately protected.

It is prohibited to attempt unauthorised access to systems or accounts; interfere with the operation of the Site; introduce malicious code; circumvent technical controls; conduct vulnerability testing without authorisation; or use the Site unlawfully, fraudulently or harmfully.

20. Third-party links, data and services

The Site may contain links, information, data, tools or services provided by third parties.

The inclusion of a link or reference does not necessarily imply approval, recommendation, control or guarantee of that third party. SciTech Investments does not control external content and will not be responsible for its terms, availability, security, data processing, accuracy or operation.

21. Privacy and cookies

The processing of personal data will be governed by the Privacy Policy and Cookie Policy available on the Site, which must be read together with these Terms.

Information collected to verify Qualified Investor status may be used for identification, regulatory compliance, fraud prevention, access administration, risk analysis, related communications and record keeping.

Where appropriate, that information may be shared with related entities, administrators, distributors, technology providers, advisers, financial institutions, compliance personnel and competent authorities in accordance with applicable law.

22. Fraud prevention and official channels

Valid communications, requests for documentation and contact details will be only those published through SciTech Investments' official channels.

SciTech Investments does not request payments, transfers, access codes, passwords or confidential documentation through personal profiles, unverified accounts, public groups, social media or intermediaries not identified as authorised.

The user must verify the identity of the sender and the domain used before providing information or taking any action. Any suspected impersonation, fraud, cloned website or unauthorised communication must be reported immediately through the official channels.

23. Limitation of liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, SciTech Investments, Emerge Management Inc., related entities and their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives and service providers will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special or consequential losses arising from access to, inability to access, use of or reliance on the Site.

This includes, without limitation, loss of profits, opportunities, data, reputation, income or investment value.

SciTech Investments will not be liable for investment decisions made exclusively on the basis of the Site, unauthorised use of restricted materials, the user's failure to comply with territorial restrictions or acts or omissions of third parties beyond its reasonable control.

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits liability that cannot lawfully be excluded or limited, including liability arising from fraud, wilful misconduct or any other conduct in respect of which applicable law prohibits an exclusion of liability.

24. Suspension and termination of access

SciTech Investments may suspend, restrict or terminate a user's access where the user breaches these Terms; ceases to qualify as a Qualified Investor; has supplied false or misleading information; shares materials or credentials; attempts to circumvent controls; creates technological, regulatory, operational or reputational risks; or where this is necessary to comply with legal obligations.

Suspension or termination will not create any right to compensation and will not extinguish the obligations of confidentiality, intellectual property, limitation of liability and any other provisions that by their nature are intended to survive.

25. Amendments

SciTech Investments may amend these Terms where necessary to reflect legal, regulatory, technological, operational or commercial changes.

The current version will be the version published on the Site together with its corresponding update date. Use after an amendment is published will constitute acceptance of the new version. Where material changes affect the restricted area, renewed express acceptance may be required.

26. Governing law, jurisdiction and general provisions

Unless a mandatory rule provides otherwise, these Terms are governed by the laws of the British Virgin Islands.

Any dispute relating to the Site or these Terms will be submitted to the competent courts of the British Virgin Islands, without prejudice to rights and jurisdictions that cannot be excluded under applicable law. Activities carried out in Australia will also be subject to mandatory Australian laws and the scope of the relevant authorisations.

If any provision of these Terms is held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will continue in full force and effect. The affected provision must be interpreted or limited to the minimum extent necessary to approximate its original purpose within the limits permitted by law.

A failure to exercise a right does not constitute a waiver. SciTech Investments may assign or transfer its rights and obligations where permitted by applicable law; the user may not do so without prior written authorisation.

27. Contact

Enquiries relating to the Site, Qualified Investor status, privacy, security, fraud prevention or compliance must be made exclusively through SciTech Investments' official channels:

- Email: info@sci.tech
- Telephone: +1 (786) 830-0380
- Address: 3076 Sir Francis Drake's Highway, Road Town, Tortola, British Virgin Islands, VG1110

The current list of official channels will be the list published on the Site. Users must not rely on contact details received through unverified channels.